PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

The Elizabeth Richards Anywhere Chair is the ideal flexible seating option. It is a comfortable, cushioned low seat ideal for sitting on the floor in a flexible seating arrangement in the classroom or school library.

A fantastic choice for flexible learning spaces, the Elizabeth Richards Anywhere Chair is a great way to offer children choices in the way they learn. These versatile low floor seats are lightweight and portable so children can collaborate in small flexible learning groups, placing their Anywhere Chair in a small group arrangement. They can also be easily moved by children into an independent learning zone for exploring projects on their own. Their compact size also makes them ideal for children to work in pairs with the teacher also seated for guided learning. This flexible floor seat can also be used in the school library for sharing stories, early childhood settings for group time and floor play or in High School libraries, break-out rooms, and classrooms.

This space-saving low floor seat is adjustable, offering a safe, cushioned back support that can quickly and easily be adjusted for teachers and educators. Able to tolerate weights up to 70kg, teachers will feel comfortable and supported while engaging with children during flexible floor activities. Use with our Elizabeth Richards flexible learning desks; Lap Desks and Dry Erase Folding Lap Desks for independent work or the Dry Erase Collaborative Table for small group work.

The suede-like fabric is easily wiped-down after use. Available in four bright colours, these flexible Anywhere Chairs will coordinate with any classroom environment. The space-saving design means the backrest can be quickly folded flat so these versatile chairs can be stacked for storage.
