GEO EXECUTIVE SLAB END

This executive desk offers a modern twist on a great classic line. It is a sophisticated alternative for the executive office with both timeless form and superb function. It comprises combined desk and return, feature tile lines on return undercarriage. The desk top appears to float on one side and it balances on a sub frame above the return’s top with sturdy panel leg on the other end. This desk creates a distinctive vibe for the executive or manager who wants something aesthetically pleasing yet practical for their office.
